Boy Scouts "Scouting for Food"

Recently Cub Scout Pack 34 (Pen Argyl) collected food during the annual Scouting for Food event. The pack collected a whopping 1,881 pounds of food (2123 items), which was donated this morning to Stuff the Bus and stays local for families in need in the Slate Belt.

Unstuff The Bus

Submitted by Madison.Deitz

On Friday November 21st students from the Pen Argyl High School went to the YMCA to sort, count, package, and hand out all the food that was collected from the huge Stuff the Bus event. Pen Argyl Area High School collected food for Stuff the Bus, from Monday November 3rd through Friday November 21st. Stuff the Bus was a district wide event in which students and teachers donated non perishable items for people in need during the Thanksgiving season.

The Knights' Order worked with Families First, all the food collected was given to families in Pen Argyl and our community that needed a little extra help to get through the holiday. The Plainfield Elementary School, Wind Gap Middle School, and the District Office all joined the high school in collecting donations! Not only did the members of Pen Argyl School District donate to this cause, but local businesses and community members also donated items. We wanted to give a special thanks to Krise Transportation for the use of their bus and the YMCA for the use of their gym for sorting and distributing food. Cub Scout Pack 34 donated over 1900 pounds of food thanks to their "Scouting for Food" drive. Thanks to the help from the community, we collected 13,819 items and were able to feed over 70 families. The Knights' Order, the Character Education program at the Pen Argyl High School that organized the event, is responsible for service projects throughout the school and community. The Knights' Order wanted to give back to the community that has been so supportive of their other initiatives.

The Character Education students put in hours of their time to get this event ready for the whole district to participate in. Thank you to everyone who participated in this event, without your help this would not have been possible! Happy Thanksgiving!

The Heart of Thanksgiving

By Kathleen McFall

Thanksgiving, one of the most cherished American traditions, is a time we gather, reflect and share a meal with those we love.

However, beyond the turkey and the trimmings lies a deeper purpose: to recognize the power of gratitude, a time to pause and give thanks.

Thanksgiving reminds us that the true heart of the holiday is not found in the busyness of the season, but in the appreciation we carry with us.

In a world that moves too quickly, true thankfulness opens our eyes to our blessings. Gratitude reminds us that even in difficult seasons, we are never without something to be thankful for.

We are all familiar with the story of the First Thanksgiving, which was born out of challenge and faith.

The pilgrims who gathered to give thanks had faced deep hardship, hunger, loss, fear and an uncertain future.

Yet, they bowed their heads and worshiped and thanked God for His mercy and His provision.

They chose to lift their hearts to God in humble gratitude for His protection. They gave thanks for their survival, for new friends, and for hope.

Their spirit still speaks to us today. Their example reminds us that gratitude does not depend on perfect circumstances. It flows from a heart that trusts the giver more than the gift.

Thanksgiving is a gentle invitation to gather and to take stock of all that fills our lives with meaning. It offers a chance to reflect.

It sets the tone and encourages us to carry a spirit of thankfulness as we anticipate the traditions, connections, and celebrations that define the season.

Often we think of Thanksgiving as the quiet opening chapter of our holiday season. It invites us to pause before the festive rush begins.

Thanksgiving reminds us that before the season bursts into colorful lights, holiday decorations, music and celebrations, it is important to be thankful.

Each holiday we experience throughout the year has its own history, its own rituals. Yet they are all linked by the gratitude reflected at Thanksgiving - a wonderful opportunity to reconnect and notice the simple beauty of being with the people we love.

As we step from Thanksgiving into the festive weeks to come, we do so with a deeper understanding of joy rooted in thankfulness, inspired by togetherness, and ready for the season's unfolding promises.

Thanksgiving teaches us to embrace the season not just with excitement, not just with lists and plans, but with appreciation.

When gratitude leads the way, everything that follows shines a little brighter. We look forward to the gatherings that fill our calendars, the small rituals that shape our homes, and the moments of joy that seem to multiply as the holidays grow closer.

Whether we're hanging a wreath, planning a meal, or simply watching the first snowfall, it is important that the spirit of Thanksgiving continues to echo quietly.

Our joy fuller when it begins with thankfulness, when we appreciate the people and moments that fill our lives.

Gratitude does not come from having everything we want, but comes from recognizing the gifts we already have. Gratitude should not end with Thanksgiving Day, but remind us, even in difficult times, we have much to be thankful for.

Gratitude shifts our gaze from what is missing to what is present, from what has been lost to what still remains.

When we practice thankfulness, we see more clearly that joy doesn't come from grand achievements, but from everyday blessings that fill our lives with meaning.

Let's remember that gratitude is more than a feeling. It's a way of seeing the beauty around us. We find that life offers endless reasons to give thanks.

Thanksgiving reminds us that joy is found in noticing life's simple gifts - family, friends, the wonder and beauty of nature right before our eyes, and the freedom to worship and live in peace.

Gratitude can lift our hearts above worry and bring us peace.

This Thanksgiving, may we take time to look closely at the countless ordinary blessings that sustain our days.

Let's be thankful for a chance to begin again, to learn, to give and to grow. For gratitude transforms the familiar into the extraordinary. It turns a simple meal into a celebration, a moment into a memory, and an ordinary day into a gift.

In that awareness, we discover that Thanksgiving is not just a holiday. It's a way of seeing, a way of living.

When we choose thankfulness, we find contentment. When we live with grateful hearts, we discover a way of life that brings kindness, forgiveness, and love.

Thanksgiving is an invitation to pause and remember that every good gift comes from God.

The Bible tells us in Psalm 107:1 "Give thanks to the Lord, for He is good, for His steadfast love endures forever."

We need to recognize His constant presence even in hardship. In our busy world, it's easy to take blessings for granted, to see what's missing instead of what's given.

True Thanksgiving begins when we pause and give thanks for the blessings in our lives and even the lessons learned through trials we face.

We have the hope of God's promises yet to come. Scripture tells us to give thanks in all circumstances. When we thank God, we acknowledge His presence in every season, in the joys and challenges that shape our faith.

This Thanksgiving, let's take time during our celebration to thank God. And remember that He is faithful and continues to bless us.

We can experience gratitude for the beauty around us - to pause from our busy routines and look closely at the life that surrounds us.

It is a season that reminds us to breathe deeply, to notice the world in all its color and rhythm, and to give thanks not only for what we have, but for the wonder of simply being alive.

Gratitude begins in small amounts. It does not begin in abundance, but in awareness. To be thankful is to recognize that life itself is a gift.

Thanksgiving, the season of reflection, is not just a holiday, it's a way of living, reminding us that joy is found in noticing life's simple gifts.

May we live each day as if it were Thanksgiving, filled with gratitude and awareness of others.

Gratitude can lift our hearts
above worry and bring us peace.

What are you Thankful for?

Becky Higgins, owner, All Aspects at the Barn, "This year brought life-changing challenges after my bone cancer diagnosis. I am profoundly aware of how much I have to be grateful for. I'm thankful for my incredible husband, my family and friends, our All Aspects at the Barn team and our supportive community, who chose to shop locally while I recovered. I'm grateful to be back at work, for my strength and recovery, and deeply blessed for my surgeon who achieved clear margins. Blessed to have a strong circle around me as I continue this fight."

Rafael Antunes, Empires Coffee, "I'm thankful for friends and family. I appreciate everybody in my community because if it wasn't for the community, we wouldn't have anything."

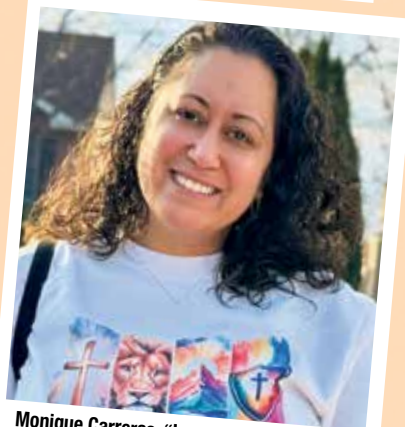

Kathleen Lynch, Director Bangor Public Library. "I'm thankful for the lovely community we serve along with our friends of the library and our board members"

Pastor Mike Poppa, "I'm thankful for Jesus, my family, my church and all the people I have pastored and have talked to about Jesus."
