The Quiet Power of Advent

By Kathleen McFall

The familiar sights of Christmas are here - decorations on Christmas trees, evergreen wreaths, carols playing in stores and churches, and neighborhoods brightened with holiday lights.

Christmas is a season rich with warmth and tradition: family gatherings, candlelit services, the comfort of old hymns sung year after year.

Many of us feel a quiet pull toward something deeper. We embrace Christmas with a mixture of anticipation and reflection.

Christmas is the celebration of the birth of Jesus, the fulfillment of the promise of the long-awaited Messiah who entered the world in humility and love.

In the Bible, Luke 2:11, an angel announced to shepherds: "For unto you is born this day in the city of David, a Savior, who is Christ the Lord."

For Christians, Christmas is a time of unmistakable joy, wonder and divine love. It is the astonishing moment when God stepped into the world in the small town of Bethlehem as a child, vulnerable and yet victorious. His arrival changed the world.

From His birth, Jesus' significance was universal. Matthew 2:1-2, describes the arrival of Magi (wise men) from the East, who saw a star and traveled to Jerusalem saying: "Where is He who has been born? For we saw His star when it rose and have come to worship Him."

Yet, woven into the fabric of Christian tradition is another season that often goes unnoticed: Advent, meaning "coming" or "arrival". It invites us into a period of attentive waiting.

Although Advent is coming to a close, it is important to reflect on these 4 weeks leading up to Christmas and how Advent can affect our lives long after the last ornament is put away.

Advent is one of the most cherished and meaningful seasons in the Christian calendar. It is a quiet, reverent invitation to pause and prepare our hearts for the coming of Jesus Christ through four powerful themes: Hope, Peace, Joy, and Love.

Advent reminds us what truly matters: that the Nativity story did not appear out of nowhere; it unfolded slowly, with signs, promises, and people who learned to trust God.

The quiet season of waiting deepens the glory of Christmas, acknowledging our own present-day longing for God's presence, peace, and redemption.

Advent helps us enter Christmas not as a holiday but as a celebration of Christ's birth. It is a time of waiting and readying ourselves as we honor the miracle of the birth of Jesus.

The four candles of Advent, Hope, Peace, Joy, and Love, guide us on this journey. They are not simply symbols or rituals. They are timeless and can live in us regardless of the time of year. These four Advent themes continue to shape our lives today.

Each week brings its own message, gently leading us toward the manger where Jesus first entered our world. They are reminders of what God offers us. He invites us to share with one another.

Hope, the first candle of Advent, is where the Christmas story begins. The birth of our Savior, the One who would bring healing to the broken and salvation to the world. Their hope was not passive; it was a trust that God would remain faithful to His promises.

In our own lives, we experience seasons of waiting too. We wait for healing, for direction, for reconciliation, for clarity, for strength to face the challenges before us. Advent reminds us that God works in the waiting.

The birth of Jesus is proof that God's promises do not fade. They arrive—sometimes quietly, sometimes unexpectedly—but always with purpose.

Hope prepares our hearts for Christmas by lifting us up from what troubles us toward what God can do. It reminds us that the light of Christ can change lives, and bring comfort and fulfillment.

In the second week of Advent, we light the candle of Peace. It is the peace Jesus Himself brings. The peace the angels proclaimed when they filled the night sky over Bethlehem and announced in Luke 2:14: "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, goodwill toward men."

We all long for peace and calm in our lives. Our schedules fill quickly. Expectations rise. Family gatherings can, at times, feel overwhelming. Advent invites us to let Christ, the Prince of Peace, steady our hearts and meet us in our restlessness and calm our worries.

Peace also calls us to look at the people around us with compassion. Sometimes the most meaningful gift we can offer is a softened heart, a listening ear, or a word of forgiveness. When we choose peace, we prepare room in our hearts for the One who came gently into our world, wrapped in swaddling clothes and laid in a manger.

The third week of Advent we light the candle of Joy, reflecting a spirit of celebration. Advent joy is deeper. It is the joy we feel when God's presence breaks through the ordinary moments of life.

This joy often arrives unexpectedly. It might appear in laughter shared around a dinner table, in children who believe in the magic of Christmas, or in the quiet contentment of sitting beside a loved one.

It can rise up in seasons of difficulty, reminding us that God walks with us and that His goodness is never far away.

Advent joy prepares us for Christmas by opening our hearts to gratitude. It reminds us that even in an imperfect world, God sends blessings and fills our lives with reasons to rejoice.

The final candle of Advent is Love, the heart of Christmas. It is the love that brought Christ from heaven to earth and continues to transform our lives.

Every cherished Christmas memory we hold whether it is times with family, presents chosen with care, traditions passed from one generation to the next, finds its meaning in love.

God's love is enduring. It is the love that forgives us and restores us. It calls us to love one another in the same way.

Christmas is the story of God drawing near to humanity not with judgment, but with tenderness, not with fanfare, but with the cry of a newborn King.

This love invites us to look beyond ourselves and to reach out to those who are grieving, or overwhelmed. It calls us to remember those who may not have a place to gather or someone to celebrate with.

When we love others generously, we echo the love God has shown us through Jesus.

When the four candles of Hope, Peace, Joy, and Love burn together, their combined glow becomes a gentle, steady reminder of what Christmas truly is.

In a world filled with hurry, noise, and distraction, Advent brings us back to the foundations of our faith and invites us to experience the beauty of preparing our hearts for Christ.

We need to abandon the chaos of the world, to reflect and remember the spiritual meaning of the holiday.

Christ's presence restores and guides our lives. Advent connects the past, the present, and the future through the faithfulness of God. We are never alone. In Jesus, God didn't just visit, He stayed. Jesus is called Immanuel, "God with us."

Advent doesn't diminish Christmas. It deepens it, making the joy of Christmas shine even more brightly. Advent strengthens Christmas by cultivating a deeper understanding of what Christ's birth truly meant: that God has never abandoned us.

We arrive at Christmas more grateful, more aware, and more open to the miracle of God's love. For in celebrating Advent, we make room for Christmas to transform us.

This year, perhaps the most meaningful gift we can give ourselves is the willingness to listen and let the Christmas story unfold as it was always meant to from expectation to wonder and rejoicing.

The birth of Jesus is the greatest gift the world has ever received. Advent helps us unwrap that gift slowly, week by week, preparing our hearts to welcome Christ with sincerity, gratitude, and renewed faith.

Advent invites us to slow down and soften our spirit because Christmas is coming, and with it comes the light of Christ, "... the one and only Son, who came from the Father, full of grace and truth." (John 1:14)

Advent is deeply spiritual and its themes are universal. They touch our families, our friendships, our daily decisions. They help us prepare for the coming of Jesus in a meaningful way.

Advent helps us resist the rush and noise of the season so that when Christmas morning arrives, we are not simply ready with wrapped gifts and decorated homes. We are ready in spirit. Advent leads us to the manger.

As you experience this season lighting candles, gathering with loved ones, sharing meals, giving gifts, singing hymns, or simply pausing for a quiet moment, may the spirit of Advent remain with you and lead you closer to the One whose birth brings hope to the weary, peace to the troubled, joy to the waiting, and love to the world.

May the light of Christ shine in your heart this Christmas and guide you gently into the new year.

Have a blessed, joyful Christmas!

Jacobsburg Environmental Education Center Community January 2026 Community Programs

First Day Hike - Thursday, January 1, 2026 10am to 11:30am & 2:30pm. Get out and get hiking on the first day of 2026! Join us for a three-mile interpretive hike at Jacobsburg. We will explore the fields of the Homestead Trail to enjoy views of Blue Mountain and the village of Belfast. The hike will start and end at the visitor center at 400 Belfast Road. Children must be at least 5 years old if walking on their own. Dress for the weather, wear comfortable hiking shoes, and bring a water bottle. Registration is required.

Women in the Wild - First Day Hike - Thursday, January 1, 2026 1pm to 2:30pm. Get out and get hiking on the first day of 2026! Join fellow women hikers for a three-mile interpretive hike at Jacobsburg. We will explore the fields of the Homestead Trail to enjoy views of Blue Mountain and the village of Belfast. The hike will start and end at the visitor center at 400 Belfast Road. Children must be at least 5 years old if walking on their own. Dress for the weather, wear comfortable hiking shoes, and bring a water bottle. Registration is required. Women in the Wild is a monthly series of outdoor programs held at state parks throughout the Southeast. Each month of 2026 there will be an opportunity to get outdoors, learn a new skill, and have fun in a relaxed, friendly, and affirming environment. Are you drawn to the outdoors and interested in exploring new hobbies and wilderness skills? This series is designed especially for you! Choose from activities like archery, paddleboarding, rock climbing, and birdwatching. Check out the event at your closest state park or follow Women in the Wild to a new park each month. We're excited to spend the year with you trying new things!

Winter Wonders Series - Monday, January 5th, 12th, 26th, and February 2, 2026 10am to 11am. Join the team at Jacobsburg as we explore winter wonders! Each session will have a new seasonal theme and craft. This program is suited for children aged 3+. Homeschool students welcome! All children must be accompanied by an adult. There are four total sessions, you may register for some or all, however, each session must be registered for individually. There will be NO session on 1/19/26.

Family Science Night - Tracking Workshop - Friday, January 16, 2026 6:30pm to 7:30pm. Winter is a good time to observe animals and study their tracks. Learn how animals walk and how to identify them based on their foot shape. We'll spend the evening inside getting messy by making plaster casts. This event is best for children ages 3 and up and is a great introduction to tracking ahead of Saturday's outdoor Mammal Mysteries program. Registration is required.

Mammal Mysteries - Saturday, January 17, 2026 10am to 11:30am. Ever wonder what animals are up to in winter? Do you like solving mysteries? Join the team at Jacobsburg as we search for animal tracks to figure out what our local animals are doing on the property! This program is best suited for families with children aged 6 and up. Walking outdoors in all weather, moderate hills and varying conditions due to recent weather. Please dress to be outside, wear boots, and bring a water and snack. Registration is required.

Winter Tree I.D. - Saturday, January 17, 2026 1pm to 3pm. No leaves? No problem! Learn how to identify woody plants in a winter landscape. This program is best suited for adults. Terrain is moderate hills with varying conditions due to recent weather. Please dress appropriately to be outside for the duration of this program. Registration is required.

Snowshoes and Hiking Poles Available - Monday thru Friday, 8:15 AM-3:30 PM. Jacobsburg Visitor Center, 400 Belfast Road, Nazareth. Borrow snowshoe equipment to use on Jacobsburg's trails this winter! Snowshoes are available for folks of any age or shoe size, including small children. Snowshoes will not be made available during times of insufficient snow cover, at least six inches of snow is required. To borrow equipment, you must provide a driver's license or other form of state issued identification. For more information call 610-746-2801 or email jacobsburgsp@pa.gov. You can check our website for current winter conditions and snow depth: <https://www.dcnr.pa.gov/StateParks/WinterReport/Pages/default.aspx>

You can view and register for community programs online at <https://events.dcnr.pa.gov/search/events?order=date&search=jacobsburg>. If you need an accommodation to participate in a program, please contact the park office at 610-746-2801 or jacobsburgsp@pa.gov. Interpreters for people who are deaf or hard of hearing are available for educational programs with at least seven days notice.

The First Christmas by Robert L. Martin

The first Christmas for the lowly king, born in a manger as the heavens sing,
among the poor but of the highest status,
was our servant king, so powerful, so glorious.

A little child born among the animals in a simple barn but of the grandest spectacles in front of the wisest and most holy men who stood in awe at the child so eminent,
the future king who instilled a new spirit in mankind was born.
